Great Interest in Election Throughout the County

Rolph Favorite Here For Governor Although Stephens Wins In State. Hoyle and Phillips Elected By Big Majorities. Petray Beats Joe Ryan Who Got Landslide Vote Here. Ballard and Miss Marshall Nominated

Sonoma valley evinced great interest in the primary election Tuesday and accorded a handsome vote to the two local candidates who although they lost out in the final county tally, are to be congratulated on the testimonial accorded them throughout this valley by their fellow citizens. Tuesday night and Wednesday Petray's election which was later conceded, was in doubt, with Joe Ryar at times in the lead, but despite the fact that Joe won every precinct here by a record breaking majority, and went out of Sonoma Valley with 1012 votes to his rival's 105, the Healdsburg man was elected by a majority of 448 in the county.

Ryan received a bigger majority in his home town than did Mr. Petray and Santa Rosa rolled up a majority for Joe also.

Jesse F. Prestwood received a flattering vote for County Superintendent of Schools in every precinct of Sonoma Valley, but Ben Ballard and Miss Ida Marshall qualified for the general election in November.

District Attorney Hoyle carried Sonoma County over his rival Vallandigham by 2587 votes.

Coroner Phillips won by the handsome majority of 1749.

Congressman Lea run 3616 ahead of Hewett, the Butte county man.

Virgil Butts and Phil Varner will be on the ballot in November for Tax Collector.

Charles A. Pool was reelected Auditor over Olney Pedigo.

Herbert Snyder was elected Recorder over Fred Nagle.

Herbert Slater defeated J. E. Olmsted for State Senator by 1446.

James Rolph for governor received 5934 votes against Governor Stephens 2738.

The local vote for Constable was made interesting by the large number of voters who wrote in the name of Jep Valente. Jack Murray whose name was on the ballot got a majority however and his wife got a vote for constable also in one Sonoma precinct

Jerry Allen, Judge Small and Judge Leopold Justi were reelected.

CAMPAIGN STUFF MAY CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE

Vicious Circular Makes Appearance On Streets Night Before Election.

"Some Sonomans, who hated District Attorney George W. Hoyle "not wisely, but too well," had unsigned circulars attacking him printed. This is a misdemeanor, according to the law, and the penalty is a maximum of $500 fine and six months' imprisonment.

These circulars were spread all over the Petaluma district, but in Santa Rosa the people who had them for distribution realized the danger of prosecution and none were sent out.

District Attorney Hoyle has not yet stated what action he would take in the matter, but he has a circular which can be used as evidence if he cares to use it as such."

The above account taken from the Santa Rosa Press Democrat has reference to the circular which appeared on our streets the night before the primaries and is acknowledged to have been written by Mrs. Irene McNeal Swasey, a guest of the Appleton's but who states that she is not a relative but is only the divorced wife of Mrs. Appleton's half brother in the East. Mrs. Swasey got herself into considerable notoriety and made herself and the publisher of her attack on District Attorney Hoyle amenable to the law. She took exceptions to and misinterpeted a speech given at the Sonoma Valley Woman's club by the District Attorney who was invited to speak there.. She vooiced her criticism in a written statement which she submitted to sympathetic Vallandigham boosters who seized upon it for campaign purposes and as she admits, encouraged her in seeking publicity for the denunciation of the popular official. She made a trip to Santa Rosa, launched her attack and sought to have the leading papers of the county seat publish it, first as a communication and when that was refused, as paid advertising. They branded the article as campaign stuff and dirty politics, refusing it entrance to their columns under any conditions.

Not to be undone, Mrs. Swasey came back to Sonoma where she appealed to Henry Watters, whose printing concern got out several thousand of the circulars which berated Mr. Hoyle and urged the voters to cast their ballots for Vallandigham. The circulars bore no name or imprint and were sent to both Petaluma and Santa Rosa. When distributing pamphlets here, they ran afoul of the law, City Trustee Breitenbach warning them that it was illegal. Mrs. Swasey then sought an interview with Mayor Dal Poggetto in order to get a permit to circulate them but was again told it was not legal to scatter broadcast the pamphlets. Santa Rosa distributors who received the circulars after they had been taken there by Mrs. Burlingame in a jitney from here, realized that it was a misdemeanor and it is said burned up much of the literature. When Mrs. Swasey discovered she was flying in the face of the law, she called in all that she could from Petaluma.

Aside from the violation of the law, the abortive attempt to injure Mr. Hoyle's chance of election, failed miserably for he has a handsome majority, both here and all over Sonoma county.

Mrs. Swasey who got herself into the lime-light and possible trouble through her officious and hysterical actions is a literary woman from the East and claims ignorance of the laws of California, in order to excuse the predicament in which she finds herself.

She has a son who enlisted and says her mis-understanding of the District attorney's speech made her resent it. She frankly admits that she was encouraged to put out the manuscript she prepared as campaign literature. Vallandigham denied knowledge of it in an interview with a Petaluma paper.

The circular which bore the words "this cruel and un-neccessary war" is also said to be seditious in tone. Mrs. Swasey declares that her mss. said "necessary war" and that it was typographically mangled. The outcome of the mix-up is awaited with interest by the entire community.

Catspaws in Dirty Politics Get Merited Rebuke

THE WILFUL distortion of the truth regarding a statement made by District attorney Hoyle recently before the Womans club and the wrong construction put upon it which appeared in a pamphlet gotten out to injure his candidacy bore all the earmarks of an eleventh hour campaign lie of the dirtiest political type.

The attack framed in the scurrilous circular berating Mr. Hoyle, one of Sonoma county's grandest and most loyal patriots who has a boy fighting in France and is 100 per cent American, was the work of a stranger within our gates, a mischief making, erratic personage.

The hospitality and invitation extended to Mr. Hoyle by the womans club was turned into an inexcusable breach of all the courtesies by this shameful attack which was repudiated by every fair minded voter in this valley and scored by the county in general.

We have all heard our District attorney speak on patriotic themes. He is a 4 minute man, a leading member of the State Council of Defense, and has given more assistance to the local exemption board than any other one person in Sonoma county. His patriotism is unquestioned. He has occupied the highest place in the regard of every citizen and his eloquent, clean cut and powerful discourses have thrilled our people and brought forth wonderful receptions wherever he has spoken.

It remained for a couple of scatter brained women to stir up criticism of a statement wherein Mr. Hoyle declared he had more respect for the draf ted soldier than for the ones who enlisted in order to get soft easy jobs. He had in mind those instances where young men have gone into the army to purposely avoid the chances of actual combat. No one should have misunderstood his meaning nor misinterpreted what he sought to convey. He cast no reflection on enlisted men, scoring only those who seek to evade red blooded responsibility. Malicious construction however was put on his statement, his remarks coined into garbage-picked politics and used against Mr. Hoyle in a venemous circular, several thousand of which were printed by a local trouble maker with utter disregard for the law which makes it a crime to issue and circulate such anonymous stuff.

The puerile attempt to discredit the popular official and boost his rival, failed miserably and should be a good lesson to hysterical suffragettes and those who make such their political cats paw. There is no doubt but that the criticism of the women who failed to interpret Mr. Hoyle, was deliberately turned into political capital by the same little clique of persons who have long sought to usurp the district attorney's office, were repudiated by Clarence Lea in the past, cannot now use Mr. Hoyle to serve their personal ends or punish their enemies and therefore were quick to assist the petti coat brigade in pulling off the fiasco of last Monday.

Sonoma is getting an unenviable reputation for dishing up dirty politics and there is no question but it reacted on our candidates. Fortunately Sonoma Valley has shown by its vote that it does not countenance the methods of those responsible for such work. Our best and biggest citi zenship is unutterably opposed to such tactics

German Prisoners Should Not Come Here

IT HAS BEEN suggested (from a source that should be investigated) that German prisoners taken by our troops abroad, should be sent over here to the United States to work. The San Francisco Chronicle of a recent date took up the suggestion and deemed it worthy of endorsement on the grounds that our hospital ships if loaded with German prisoners as ballast, might deter the fiendish and unnatural enemy attacks on the hospital ships bringing our wounded to America; that prisoners could be more easily fed here than there and that eventually they would come to see the advantage of living in a country where democracy daily demonstrates its advantages over the kind of a government Germans have been used to.

We have heard this talk of bringing German prisoners over here at various times and from various sources. It sounds like German propaganda and in our opinion should not be countenanced for one minute. This country and conditions here are far too good for men who have been taught that we are devil dogs, that the allies in general were prey of their basest instincts, that all good impulse must be stifled for the triumph of onxious kultur. It would be a sacred privilege for many of our own soldiers to breathe the air of America and once again behold the Statute of Liberty, yet they are denied it because of the fortunes of war. Why then should these prisoners be permitted to leave behind them the stricken area of desolate war and come into the quiet harbor of peace in this land of plenty?

Hospital ships laden with Germans would not deter the enemy from sending them down to a cruel death with our own helpless sick and wounded, for they have shown an utter disregard for the lives of their own men and have repeatedly declared that body and soul, every German belongs to his emperor to pay the price he asks. If for German revenge, the war lord need have human sacrifice, it would be exacted and paid by the unfortunate subjects on the ocean as on the fields of battle. What matter if a few more or less be flung into the battle lust. There is a faint possibility that to the benumbed brains of outraged victims of such a system, the spark of brotherhood might stir within and divine that the practice of bombing fellow souls at sea is iniquituous, yes blasphemous. Would the moral effect be worth while to those of the enemy who might survive?

As to the labor shortage, what sort of labor would these unwilling captives be? What sort of an effect wauld they have on the German element in this country to whose brotherhood they would most likely try and appeal? The work done by these prisoners would take work from others who might with better grace accept it. The hands which have been raised against the victims credited to Hun outrages, should at least be kept within the countries where they have wreaked their vengeance and be forced to toil and rebuild and restore the homes desolated through Hun vandalism.

As for the question of feeding them easier, let them take what can within reason be spared after our troops and the allies are provided for. Let them raise and grow if they can, what they require on the soil they have crimsoned with innocent blood and watered with tears. Uncle Sam will not treat prisoners inhumanely and it is not the spirit of the U. S. A. to have him do differently, but there is a limit not even justified from an economic standpoint.

The sorry victims of German autocracy delivered into our hands through their failure to overcome our troops in war, must learn first hand the lesson of miserable tyrrany's failure. Let it topple and fall in upon them. Let the price they have paid, the toll it has exacted, eat out their very hearts. For so it must be ere they are purged of its curse and its cossack cruelty. Then and only then will they be ready as free agents and rehabilitated humans to accept the blessings of a benevolent democracy and to renounce and cast off forever the old enslaving fallacy of the divine right of kings, kultur and Hoenzollerinism. Let them work out their salvation over there in the war zone, for we believe that the transition stage in the minds and conscience of these frenzied people will be pitious to witness and the adjustment will not be cumulative of good effect in the social and political atmosphere which they assimilate.

Let us hope that prisoners we take and all others of the enemy will undergo complete rehabilitation, but let them get the new religion of freedom in their own land or in those other lands over there where each day the lesson should be growing plainer and more compelling that the era of arrogant and ruinous monarchy is gone, ruined beyond reparation, consigned with its ambitious and selfish disciples to the bottomless pit of perdition to suffer unspeakable torments for the souls it lashed to autocracy's spar in its last mad stand for world domination. The ship of state in Germany has fast been going to pieces. When it plunges to its doom, the survival of the fittest will assert itself and upon democracy's shores will come the cast-aways to write upon the sands humility, regeneration, brotherhood and peace. Then shall the world war and its problems be righted.

THEY HAD THE BREED IN UKIAH TOO!

POLITICS AND PIFFLE

"THE eleventh hour is here and their systems of the accumulated bile which usually comes forth at this hour of the campaign.

Mendocino county is fortunate in having a line-up of candidates for county offices such as has not been its privilege to place before the voters in recent years, and although all can not be elected, whoever the victorious ones are next Tuesday the taxpayers are assured of an honest and efficient administration of their affairs.

The county is unfortunate, however, in having about the county seat the amalgamated club of down-and-outers, membership of which is composed of political outcasts of both parties and expectant hangers-on, who are exercising their hammer in an effort to embarass some of the candidates. This condition is deplorable and is unpleasant for all candidates, for whom it must be said that they personally are closing one of the cleanest campaigns ever recorded in the county's political history.

The eleventh hour lie, which is familiar to those who have followed county politice and which will continue to be a disagreeable part of all mampaigns so long as these political parasites and outcasts are encouraged by a few to hang around, has made its appearance. There are many of them, in fact, some being for and some against present incumbents, but the yarns that are being spread are branded plainly and have failed to find lodgings in the minds of the voters.

Investigations have shown that the support of this hollow-headed brigade has not been solicited by the candidates, yet they have taken themselves so seriously as to poke an unwelcome finger into the pie. Facts seem to have little weight when the down-and-out club tries to stage a come-back and crawl into the political limelight but their game is so bewhiskered its trickery is familiar to even the infant in politics.

It is unfortunate that these political asses have seen fit to again attempt their foolishness, having been lashed by the voters time and again, and the candidates who are victorious in next Tuesday's election must win despite, and not because of, the self-inflicted support of this gang of lying political scavangers."

MILLERICK FALLS IN ROMAN RACE

Well Known Rodeo Star Suffers Injury at Red Cross Benefit in Humboldt County.

Jack Millerick, the Schellville rodeo star had the misfortune to suffer severe injuries at Ferndale, Humboldt Co. where the Millerick Bros. outfit was putting on a big benefit for the Red Cross last week. During one of the events on the rodeo program, Jack Millerick, his brother Tom and Ben Dobbins rode in a Roman race. As the three were turning the back stretch with Jack in the lead standing upon the backs of the spirited pair of horses he was driving, his team slipped on a wet spot on the track and fell with the intrepid horseman. The horses rolled upon Millerick and injured him so severely that he had to be taken to the hospital where sixteen stitches were taken in his scalp and various bruises about his hips treated. Jack is able to be around and has returned home. The rest of the outfit are participating in the big roundup for the "Boys in France Tobacco Fund" in San Francisco.

KEPT GOING WHILE HIS LUCK WAS RUNNING

While driving home from the Springs to the Debats resort at El Verano, one of the guests, Adolph Eberhardt lost his purse containing $24, a twenty dollar green-back and four silver simoleons. A short while after, a lucky Jew named Marblestone came riding by in Zeifman's bus and seeing a wallet lying in the road, jumped out of the vehicle and pounced upon his find. He put the purse immediately into his pocket and began fumbling the contents. What was in it? inquired his fellow guests. Four dollars answered Marblestone at the same time drawing the purse from his pocket. The twenty dollar green-back then came to light and Zeifman's guest, evidently made up his mind to let his board, paid a week in advance, slide and get back to San Francisco while his luck was running. Whether he put his money on Stephens or Rolph, deponents saith not, but he was in the city the next day and took the wallet with him. Eberhardt heard of the find and when last heard of was on his way to pay his respects to Marblestone in San Francisco.

PROMPT AND GENEROUS SETTLEMENT OF FIRE LOSS

Although the premium on his fire insurance policy had not been paid and he was notified by the company to remit, E. Allen, who was burned out at Verano, got generous treatment from the Scottish Union & National insurance company of which L. Mouyer is local agent. They paid the loss as adjusted by experts promptly and it was something over $590 on the contents of the two story structure, formerly the Joe King house, later the Mathewson property which is now owned by B. McEvoy of Menlo Park. Mr. Allen the leasee insured the contents of the house with Mr. Mouyer. The fire was caused by the explosion of an oil stove and although the building itself was un-insured, Mr. Allen had no difficulty in collecting the insurance on the furniture. Allen is connected with Morton's Special delivery of the city.

A MESSAGE FROM KING GEORGE TO SONOMA BOY

The following message was received by R. B. Gowans of the Grizzlies, now in France and forwarded to his mother, Mrs. A. Gowans of Sonoma Vista. The Sonoma valley soldier boy arrived in England in April and is now in the war zone with the Field Artillery. His mother is rightfully proud of her soldier boy and the letter.

The boys are brothers of Wm. Gowans, chief of the fire department of Boyes Springs.

PICKINGS WERE GOOD FOR PATRIOTIC YOUNGSTERS

Eugene, Paul and Edward Robin, the three little sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Robin, aged fifteen, twelve, and ten respectively have made good as patriotic young farmers. They went down to the big Clements ranch to assist in harvesting the crop of fruit there and this week received a check for $160.75 for their work. They no sooner finished the job than they landed another one at the Ritz place. The three brothers are good hands and are very proud of doing this work in war time.

SHARE OUR SUGAR WITH THE ALLIES

British Get Two Pounds a Month. French Pound and Half, Italians One Pound.

GERMAN SUPPLY PLENTIFUL.

All Nations Permit Use of Sweetening for Home Preserving Purposes.

America's new sugar ration of two pounds a month per person is equitable when compared with the sugar ration enforced by rigid governmental order in England, France and Italy, nations with which we are sharing sugar.

Each Allied nation—in the matter of sugar consumption—is sharing on nearest possible equal terms the hardships imposed by greatly altered conditions in the world sugar situation.

Formerly classed as a luxury, sugar is now a war time essential. The fair and just division of this essential is in the hands of the various Allied food controllers.

The United States Food Administration has asked this nation to observe a voluntary sugar ration of two pounds per person a month.

In the other countries at war with Germany sugar is one of the scarce articles on every menu—whether in the households of both rich and poor, or in the hotels.

England today has a sugar ration of two pounds per month per person. In France the ration is a pound and a half and in Italy it is one pound a month. And the prices in allied countries are from two to three times as high as in America.

If you go to a hotel in England or France these days and order tea or coffee they serve absolutely no sugar with it. If you want sugar you must bring it with you.

In England it is allowable to use one-seventh of an ounce of sugar in the preparation of each luncheon. In France many persons carry little saccharine tablets about with them for use in hotels and in England rich and poor must take their sugar with them if they wish to have sweetened tea while visiting friends.

Before the war started France had 625,000 acres devoted to sugar production. By 1917 the French sugar acreage had decreased to 180,000 acres. Today the French man or woman with a sugar card has no assurance whatever that he or she will be able to actually buy sugar. To buy it, one must first find it.

Italy Has "State Sugar."

Especially drastic regulations govern the use of sugar in Italy. Its manufacture, distribution and sale are closely controlled, and in part actually taken over by the state.

Saccharine is permitted to be sold and used as a substitute for sugar and the government manufactures a mixture of saccharine and sugar called "State Sugar," which is largely used.

German Sugar Ration Adequate.

Germany, before the war, produced a great surplus of sugar and exported large quantities. Today the Germans have virtually gone out of the export business, but have plenty of cheap sugar for home use.

Wholesale prices prevalent in the Allied nations, according to information received by the United States Food Administration are as follows: England, 10 cents a pound; France, 12 cents; Italy, 26 cents.

While these high prices are being paid abroad the American wholesale price is being held at 7½ cents.

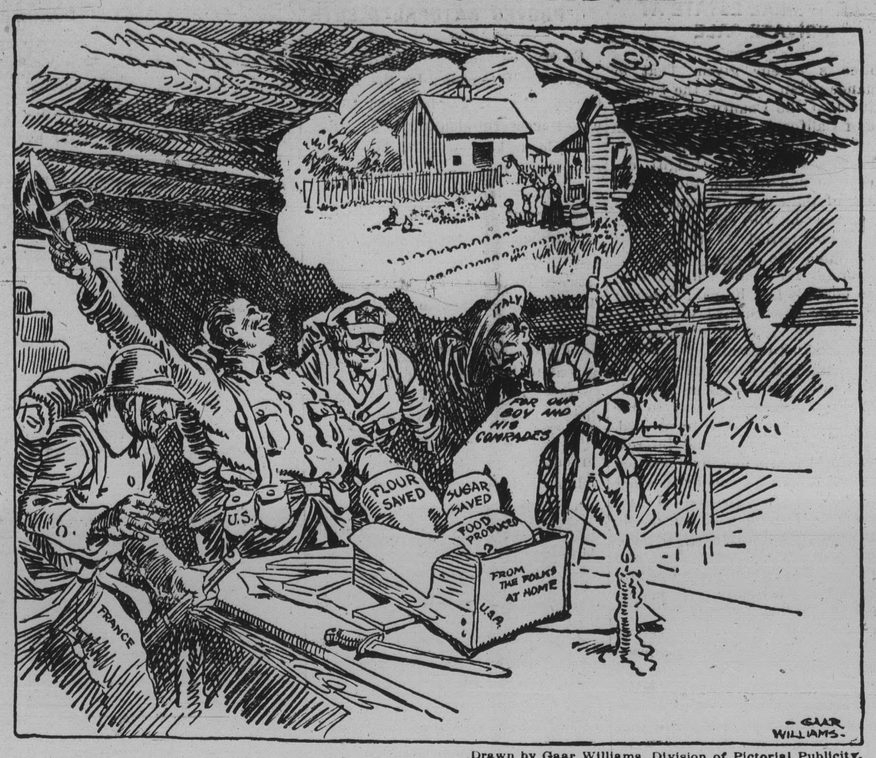
A BOX FROM HOME



Drawn by Gaar Williams, Division of Pictorial Publicity.

Food savings of millions of Americans during our first year of war enabled this government to send enormous food shipments abroad for our fighting forces and the Allied nations. Our savings in cereals—out of a short crop—amounted to 154,900,000 bushels; all of which was shipped to Europe. We increased our meat and fat shipments 844,600,000 pounds. This was America's "box from home" to our army abroad and the civilians and military forces of the Allied nations.

GERMAN WOMEN AIDING SOLDIERS ARE CAPTURED

Bob Robinson, formerly of Petaluma is in a Red Cross hospital somewhere in France recovering from a gunshot wound in the back and a serious "gassing" with mustard gas.

He evidently got into action very soon after going across, as he has been in Europe but a short time.

On Saturday, Edward Simms, of the Occidental Hotel, received a blood-stained letter from the Petaluman, the letter bearing the marks of the censor. It was written Aug. 2, so that he is evidently at a seaport town or the letter could not have come through so soon.

He writes that he was in one battle for three days and nights and that there has been hard fighting, but he is full of hope and says "home by Christmas." He says the Americans and other allies are sure some fighters and have the "Hun on the run." The Germans, he says, have plenty of guns but not enough men to handle them and his forces captured 15 women. They had been aiding the German fighters by filling their cartridge belts.

He writes that he expects to be in the hospital for a month but is anxious to get back on the firing line again. He is with M Co. 109th Regiment.

German women are also operating machine guns.

Ed Johannsen and son Clyde who looked very fine in his navy uniform came up Tuesday night, Clyde returned Wednesday.

A GALE (BERT) ON THE SEA

Bert Gale writes from England that he had a rough voyage over seas and was sea-sick the whole way over. Upon his arrival, he was taken down with pneumonia and sent to an English hospital where he received the best care but did not feel as much at home as later on when he was transfered to an American hospital where a California doctor was in charge. Bert's Colonel took a very kindly interest in him and he writes feelingly of the fine treatment he has received.

The many friends of the former dapper El Verano boy will be sorry to learn of his illness and surprised to learn that mal-der-mer troubled the debonair Bert who while here was there a million with a fliver over the roughest kind of going. A gale on the sea is different however, and Bert is not to be blamed for loving more "the land of the brave and the home of the free."

Romeo Cantoni was up Tuesday from Mare Island.

MRS. CARTER RECEIVES LETTER FROM SOLDIER GRANDSON

Mrs. Mary Carter of the Hall ranch has received a nice letter from France under date of July 11th from her grandson, Corporal Neal Dodge who is in a radio station on detail with eight other boys of the 322nd Field Signal Corps Batallion over there.

Mrs. Carter is so busy overseeing the magnificient harvest of fruit from her orchards near Schellville that she finds that she will not be able to go East as she had planned to attend the annual reunion of her relatives, the Monroe family which traces its members back to the ex-president of that name and holds a delightful conclave each year. She is doing war work besides her other duties and feels she can not spare the time to meet with the family this September.

Following is the letter from young Dodge to his grandma;

July 11, 1918.

My dear grandmother:

Your very dear letter of May 13, was received recently with much pleasure I assure you. Letters don't find us very often and they sure are more than welcome when they do arrive. So far I've had three batches of letters since our arrival in this country. I should say that letter did have quite some chase. Well as long as it found you it was all right

Yes, I received a letter from mother yesterday, telling about the children. Gee, but I'd love to see the kids tonight. I wish I had a regular picture of them. I sure won't have any objections to helping eat some of those spring chickens, one would taste powerful good right now. Well let us hope I may be able to be there in time to eat some of them. Since I last wrote you, we have moved and are now on an entirely new front and I might say in passing, decidedly more active at times.

I am now working in a radio station in a large city near the front. I was sent down here on the 4th of this month. I had some time on the 4th, it was spent principally in making a bed out of some old lumber and cleaning up an old room for my partner and myself, we are nicely situated now, the two of us have a room all to ourselves and all is lovely. I believe I am as well situated now as I have ever been before, the only bad feature is that we have to go about a mile for our meals, but that is practically the only exercise we get. The radio station is situated in the gardner's house, away from everyone else so we are not bothered much. There are eight of us at the station, I work from 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. The hours sound bad but I like it as I can do as I wish and am not bothered by anyone. Last night, not-withstanding that I was flat busted, we stepped out to a big feed, you sure would have laughed to see us, we had to first look up someone to cook our meal, then go out and get the things, each thing had to be purchased at a different place and every thing carried minus any wrapping paper, eggs in our hat etc., we had 2 dozen eggs, lard, butter, cheese, salad, canned peaches and coffee. The meal was served on a clean table cloth, napkins, clean dishes for each course and other little trimmings which made it the best meal I have had since my arrival in France. Here-to-fore we have eaten on boards with the same dishes for everything, so you see it was decidedly better than other times.

A bunch of our boys are now up at the front. We had a casualty among them the other day, a shell decided to light right where one of the boys was standing and as a result he was scattered all over the place, two other boys were quite badly wounded. We are getting off pretty easy at that as the work they are doing is quite hazardous.

Well grandmother dear, I will have to close for this time and get to work again, give my love to everyone and write as often as you can.

Your grandson, Neal.

A bouncing Native Son arrived Monday to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Leveroni (nee Elmira Hansen.)

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kerr of Los Angeles passed through Sonoma Wednesday, returning from a camping trip up north. Mrs. Kerr is a daughter of State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Edward Hyatt and was anxiously seeking news of election returns on his candidacy. Mr. Kerr was a foreman on the Jones ranch many years ago.

Chas. McDevitt has been over from Concord, coming over to vote Tuesday.

PATTI STOOD PAT.

She Wanted Her Money Before She Sang, and She Got It.

One of Adelina Patti's peculiarities was that she never sang a note until she had her salary either paid or so fully assured that there was no doubt as to her getting it. When she sang at the Academy of Music, in New York, at one time the manager was sorely put about to find money to pay her, but she always stoutly refused to sing until she had her salary.

One night at a quarter past 8 her representative went to him and said: "Madam is all dressed except her shoes. She will put those on when she gets the money."

The manager, half distracted, rushed about the house and succeeded in raising one-half the amount due the prima donna, which he hastily sent to her. But another quarter of an hour passed, and, though the audience showed great impatience, there was no Patti, whereat the manager ran to her room.

"My dear madam, why do you not go on? I have sent you half the money, and the rest will reach you before the end of the first act."

Patti smiled dolefully, exhibited the tips of her feet and said: "You see, I have only one shoe on. I cannot go on the stage without the other. It would be quite impossible."

Almost crazed, the manager rushed out and discovered that the other half of the money could be raised.—New York Tribune.

NERVES AND WATCHES.

When They Don't Agree There Is Sure to Be Poor Time.

One of the troubles of watchmakers is the man who gets on his watch's nerves. There are lots of customers on whom a good watch is wasted. A good second hand watch that has kept perfect time for other people will with certain other people go irregularly when it is not standing still. It is common knowledge in the trade that watches are greatly influenced by their owners.

Nobody knows the reason, but two explanations have been offered. One is that watches are sensitive to personal magnetism, the natural electricity that human beings contain in varying quantities.

The other is that a watch may be disturbed by the vibrations set up by a footstep which is heavier than the ordinary. The man who puts his heels down heavily usually needs to set the regulator toward slow to keep it from gaining.

One of the mysterious sides of the subject is that watches seldom keep good time on people of nervous, excitable temperaments.—Pearson's Weekly.

Reversing a Phonograph Record.

A remarkably curious experiment may be performed with any ordinary phonograph. The sound box is reversed so that the needle slopes the other way, enabling the disk to be turned backward by the finger being placed near the center. The effect produced is extremely astonishing. You hear the human voice singing songs backward; you hear the harmony of Wagner backward plain English sounds like a Chinese language. The most remarkable effect is perhaps to play a chime of bells in this reversed manner. The sound rushes up and up, but there is never a single strike or clash of a bell. The strike on the ear is reversed and is nothing but a sharp "cessation of sound."—Strand Magazine

A Scene Before the Mirror.

What the jungle ladies of Africa lack in clothing they make up in hair adornment. Some styles are pleasing, while others are very grotesque. Their hair combs are made of a very tough wood, and they need be tough, for one of the feminine customs is to put gum all through their hair to keep it in place. A very strong comb is needed to get it apart, but the women contrive somehow to do it, and as time is not money in Africa they are never in a hurry. One is not surprised to learn that sometimes it takes a woman a week to have her hair properly arranged.—Christian Herald.

Aftermath.

"Aftermath" is a persistently ill used word. Early July is the time of the "math"—that is, the first mowing of the meadow. The short grass with a sufficiency of rain will grow again, and later will come the "second mow," or "aftermath." The phrase "The storm and its aftermath" seems a favorite with some story writers, but it is difficult to understand how a storm can have a second mowing.

CHAS. McDEVITT PROVES NATURAL SLEUTH

Ex-trustee Chas. McDevitt, now employed at Cordelia by the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. has won laurels as a successful sleuth and detective.

While talking with a hotel man over there, the latter confided that a road gang had dug up private papers and documents, evidently important, which must have been lost or discarded. The packet had been found between Napa and the State Asylum Having a hunch that he might unravel the mystery, McDevitt asked to see them and to his astonishment they proved to be part of the loot stolen by the safecracker at Ringressy & Rowe's store at Fetters Springs on July 22. The hotel man thereupon turned the papers over to Sheriff Kelton of Napa who returned them to Mrs. Ringressy. They were evidently cast aside by the thief as he made his get-away via Napa.

A NEW BUSINESS MAN FOR SONOMA

The tailoring business and dry cleaning establishment conducted so successfully for several years by M. J. Power has been taken over by Al Fingers, a business man from San Francisco who comes here highly recommended. Mr. Power has sold out and his successor is already here. He asks for the continuation of the patronage of Sonoma valley customers and assures all courteous treatment and good work.

Mr. Fingers is an unmarried man and was attracted to Sonoma by the fine climate and what he considers excellent business outlook.

MODERN IMPROVEMENTS

Contractor Pete Basaglia has been constructing a fine modern cow barn large water trough and foundation for a tank frame for Potter and Brandt at Schellville.

The condition of Mrs. Martinoni, the esteemed pioneer lady, mother of Mrs. Ciucci, is reported improved.

The hundreds of people in Sonoma and other counties who wanted Rolph for governor, comprise both Republicans and Democrats who have no patience with the primary law which disbars Rolph's name from the ballot in November.

Having been so successful in directing, by means of field telephones, the wonderful battle scenes in "Joan the Woman", Cecil B. deMille, the noted producer, employed the same method of conducting the battle scenes for Geraldine Farrar's latest success for Artcraft, "The Woman God Forgot," which will be seen at the Don, on Wed. and Thurs., Sept. 4-5. Phones were installed at each station around the battefield where Mr. deMille had placed camera men and assistants, and with the receiver strapped to his head, and the transmitter swinging from his breast, he was in constant communication with the whole organization. The battle scenes which would ordinarily require a week or more to film, were taken in the brief space of three days
